Austin Design Agency to Launch Camp Scribble for Kids

April 19, 2024

Austin, Texas: Tenderling Design, an award-winning branding agency native to Austin, has announced the launch of their new summer camp for kids, Camp Scribble.

Camp Scribble is a one-week, low-cost summer camp focused on teaching art and design principles to children in the community. The camp will be held from June 17th to 21st, 9am to 2pm, for children ages eight to eleven (entering third through sixth grades). The fee is $175 for the week with scholarship options available.

"We want the camp to encourage and inspire children in the community to think creatively and show them that art can be a career," says Penny Moore, co-owner of Tenderling Design and co-creator of Camp Scribble.

The camp will be held at Tenderling Design's studio in Austin and will be hosted by experienced creative professionals, along with volunteers. An art exhibition will close the camp, with children displaying their work from the week.

Community members who wish to sponsor or donate a spot to Camp Scribble are encouraged to reach out to CampScribble@Tenderling.com.
